

CAMDEN NEWS NOTES

 William Selters, 45 years old, of 209 South Fourth street, was injured about the leg and hip in a fall while roning yesterday. He was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital.

 At the First M. E. Church yesterday Rev. H. T. Fidler, of Chew's Landing, preached in the place of Rev. Holmes F. Gravatt, who is enjoying a couple of months abroad.

 Rev. Frank H. Copper, of Cortlandt, N. Y., preached morning and evening at the North Baptist Church yesterday.

 The funeral of Albert Stevenson took place yesterday from his home, at 351 Chestnut street, interment being made in the New Camden Cemetery.

 There is great expectation among the members of the Police Department because half a dozen members of the ambulance and patrol crews are going fishing today at Anglesea.

 Most of teh local churches last night held brief services, many of them being on the lawns.

 There has grown a considerable industry in the way of building motor boats in the shipyards at Cooper's Point this summer.

 Kicked by a horse, John Robertson, 20 years old, of Berlin, was taken to the Cooper Hospital yesterday with a broken arm.

 In a fall from a train yesterday Charles Dornberger, 35 years old, of 311 Berkley street, badly lacerated his scalp, the wounds being treated at the Cooper Hospital.

 Missing from her home on Ellsworth street, Philadelphia, since last November, Mrs. Irene Travelligna and her four children were located yesterday by Policeman Troncone living with Emidino Andeo, on South Third street, Camden. The woman and Andeo were locked up in the city jail.

 Wearing a sleeveless sweater and a pair of trousers large enough for a six-foot man, Howard Kingsland, 14 years old, of Hancock street, Philadelphia, was picked up at Kaighn's Point, Camden, yesterday by Policeman Fitzsimmons. Howard said he had determined to see the world. He was held pending the arrival of his parents.

 Although yesterday was a comfortable day, one Camdenite succumbed to the heat. The victim was Edward Anderson, 14 years old, of 827 Penn street. He was taken to the Cooper Hospital, where he was revived.